

EMMA's new MOOC spring programme

The UOC launches a MOOC on Business Intelligence

The Universitat Oberta de Catalunya offers a free Massive Open Online Course (MOOC) on Business Intelligence through the new European Multiple MOOC Aggregator (EMMA), a project which brings together leading university partners providing online, easy-to-access multilingual learning opportunities that are open to all learners. The Business Intelligence course starts on April 6th.

In addition to the course offered by the Universitat Oberta de Catalunya (UOC), the EMMA platform offers three more MOOCs this spring: Developing Blended Learning, E-Learning and Lisbon and the Sea: a Story of Arrivals and Departures. These MOOCs are open to learners all over the world and each lasting between 6 and 8 weeks.

Each of these MOOCs are offered in different European languages (Estonian, Spanish, Dutch, Portuguese) with translations and transcriptions in English. Learners are welcome to test out the learning platform in the different languages available to find the MOOC that best meets their needs and interests.

Teachers and learning providers are also invited to consider adding elements of EMMA MOOCs to their own existing courses to add new perspectives and innovative learning opportunities.

If you are interested in having your own MOOC on the EMMA platform check out the criteria & conditions here. You are also invited to take part in the EMMA Summer School on designing MOOCs which will take place on the Italian island of Ischia in July 2015. This Summerschool is organised in collaboration with Federica Weblearning platform and The European Association for Technology Enhanced Learning. You will find more information about this event here.

EMMA is experimental in nature and uses an integrated advanced automatic translation service. Feedback from the wider educational community is always welcome to help us to improve the platform.
