

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Page
- Profiles of the Networks	7
- The Lisbon 2000 Conference Programme Committee	14
1. The Context and the Opportunity - A Note from the Editor	15
2. Research into Open and Distance Learning - by Erwin Wagner, Christel Claeys, Claudio Dondi, Georges Van der Perre and Andras Szûcs	21
3. ODL and ICT: New Opportunities for the Teaching Profession? - by Wouter van de Westeringh	46
4. Fighting Social Exclusion through ODL: the Development of Initiatives with the Children of Traveller Communities - by Pat Holmes, Ludo Knaepkens and Ken Marks	74
5. “ODELUCE” Open and Distance Education & Learning in University Continuing Education - by Philip Crompton, Victor de Kosinsky, Mike Osborne and Duncan Timms	87
6. Open and Distance Learning within the World of Vocational Training and Lifelong Learning - by Johan Van Oost and Bernard Blandin	104

	Page
7. Face to Face and Open and Distance Continuing Education. Challenges and Proposals. The Universidad Politécnica de Valencia Election - by P. Montesinos, J. Lacruz and C. Monforte	181
8. Quality Guidelines. To improve the Quality of Distance Learning Institutes - by Dion Hornman, Dirk van der Mark, Ernest Metcalfe, Kari Lampikoski and Michael Averkamp	234
9. European Virtual Universities in Context - by Piet Henderikx, Frits Hoff and David Hardy	285
10. Why would Universities be in Place to offer Learning or Demand? - by Markku Markkula, G. Van der Perre and Christel Claeys	327
11. ODL Networking in Europe and the Experience of the East-West Co-operation - by Tamás Lajos, Valerio Grementieri and András Szűcs	340
12. The Challenge of ICT to University Education - by Jørgen Bang and Claudio Dondi	380
13. The Distributed Virtual University - by G. Van der Perre, H. Roosendaak, and J. Van den Branden	419
- Profiles of the Contributors	437